VICIOUS STORM HITS NATION'S MIDSECTION

Rages Through Midwest to New England

Hundreds of Motorists Trapped in Southwest Snow

The most vicious storm of the winter clawed across the nation today.

It trapped hundreds of motorists in Oklahoma and Texas snowdrifts, sparked a 3,000-acre forest fire in Dixie, laid a slippery sheath of ice and sleet across the Midwest, and dumped a foot of snow on New England.

The storm hit the Southwest as a blizzard, spreading 17 inches of snow on the level at some sections such as Fort Scott, Kan.

The snow was still falling in the Southwest as the storm's center swept across southern Illinois, aiming directly toward New York State.

A bitter cold wave was moving in the storm's wake and temperatures over a vast area of the Great Plains was expected to fall to 20 below zero by Thursday morning.

Forecasters said snow would pile up a foot deep for hundreds of miles on either side of the storm's center.

The big blow threw freezing rain and sleet far in advance along its path, making highways dangerous through most of the Midwest.

Ice piled up an inch thick on wires in central Illinois. The lines broke, isolating scores of towns as wire communications went dead and roads became too hazardous for travel.

Raging winds piled the snow into deep drifts that clogged highways in Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas and portions of Missouri.

Three hundred motorists were stranded in a stretch of only 23 miles from Vernon to Electra, Tex. Guards fought to get through to them with gasoline and food.

All roads throughout southwestern, central and northeastern Oklahoma were blocked by 6 a. m.

Highway officials in Illinois, Iowa, Indiana, Michigan and Ohio warned that the storm was raging northeasterly toward New England, making roads hazardous with an overlay of glare ice.

The snow in the Southwest was described as "the heaviest in a dozen years."

The blanket of snow gave at least temporary protection to powder dry soil which could spawn another dust bowl next spring unless heavier-than-usual precipitation moistens the Great Plains.

In the Old South, the storm brought heavy rains of 1.88 inches at Jackson, Miss., 1.93 at Nashville, Tenn., and 2.04 inches at Chattanooga, Tenn.

The Atlanta Weather Bureau predicted locally severe thunderstorms in parts of Georgia and South Carolina today "with the possibility of a few isolated tornadoes in extreme north Georgia."

Even as far northeastward as Rochester, N. Y., the storm was felt in the form of .53 inches of rain.

At Chicago, the Weather Bureau issued a warning of heavy snow, sleet and rain for the metropolitan area with two to five inches of slush expected in the city and heavier snow in the suburbs. High winds and plummeting temperatures were predicted for this afternoon.

At 11 a. m. EST, the center of the vast storm system was estimated to be located near Paducah, Ky., and moving northeastward "like an express train," forecasters said.

George Grounds, 93, Dies at Cave-in-Rock

About Town

And Country
By TIMOTHY T.

THIS AND THAT: Christmas is over and the New Year, which is 1955, is almost with us, and it is wet.

Yesterday I heard that they were having to sandbag the new Lake Harrisburg, so fast was the water coming in, and before I go further with this dissertation I want to say that it wasn't so.

I drove to the big project, took off my shoes and substituted boots and started the goody and slippery trek over the levee to see what I could see.

I saw a lot of water and Sam Barter and John Belt. Sam is of the Barter Construction Co., which constructed the lake, and Belt is one of the lake engineers.

The two were testing the valves in the gatewell and the water was coming up to make the lake look like a lake. Not near enough water to make the huge lake ready to supply the city with water, but enough to give a picture of how it is going to look one of these days.

Building this lake, in my opinion, is just about the smartest thing this community has ever done. It's really going to hold a vast supply of water.

METROPOLIS EDITOR, Charlie Feirich, recently published his own open letter, addressed to the late Communist Andrei Vishinsky. The letter concludes:

"History has proven many times that no nation can survive without God. You and your gang not only plan to get along without God—you're planning to get rid of God. Your attacks on the Church, your persecution of Christians, your other crimes all seem to be rather successful at the moment. But just as sure as your own number came up for extinction, so will Russia's number come up for extinction. Hoping that the other members of your gang will join you at your present address at the earliest possible moment, I am,

"Glad that you're gone, Charlie Feirich."

STEVE FARRAR handed me a full page advertisement taken from the Nashville (Tenn.) Banner, a most unusual ad.

Headed "If you haven't got any money it doesn't make a bit of difference to Harveys," the ad continued:

"Harveys knows there are thousands of good, honest people all over Nashville who just don't have any money right now but want to give the very own gifts they themselves select to their children and other loved ones at Christmastime.

"Christmas is the time when good, honest men and women, even if they don't have the money, the other fellow has, still have the same good Christian feeling to do everything they can for others.

"Harveys wants all Nashville to know that Harveys will trust anybody, regardless of who you are, where you live, rich or poor. All you have to do today and right up till nine o'clock Christmas Eve is come to our fourth floor credit office and with no money in your pockets.

"Harveys will give you a $25 credit bond. This is exactly the same as money and you can spend it anywhere you like all over our store buying gifts for all the children and other loved ones who would otherwise have an unhappy Christmas morning.

"Furthermore, we don't want you to worry about how you are going to pay it back. Harveys trusts you. We will put you on your own and let you pay it back whenever you can. Because Harveys knows all people, regardless of how much money they have, are honest at heart. Yes, Harveys loves everybody and truly wants you to understand that we sincerely mean it when we say, 'Harveys is your Santa Claus.'"

I asked Steve if he made application for his $25 bond while he was in Nashville and he said he was afraid he'd get hurt in the stampede.

Sears Prices Lower

CHICAGO (CP) — Prices in the Sears, Roebuck and Co., 1955 spring catalogue, out this week, are the lowest since 1950, the mail order firm has reported. Prices in the new book average about 3 1/2 per cent below those in the 1954 spring catalogue, Sears said.

Expect Premier To Win Despite Opposition Blast

Herriot Leads in Final Attack Against Proposals

PARIS (AP)—Opponents of German rearmament attacked the United States today before a torn and unhappy French National Assembly convened to make its most important decision since the end of the war.

Premier Pierre Mendes-France staked the life of his government and the future of West European unity on two votes of confidence in today's Assembly session and, despite the biggest guns of the opposition, he was expected to win by a narrow margin.

Today's attack on the United States was a last desperate fling and brought into the action the Assembly's most venerated member, 82-year-old Edouard Herriot. He called for rejection of German rearmament.

Facing the deputies in their moment of crises were these two questions posed in votes by confidence:

1. To reverse last Friday's stunning rejection of the Western European Union. Friday's vote was 280-259.

2. To pass for the second time the whole ratification bill, including German entry into NATO.

Rightist deputy Gen. Adolphe Aumeran, the man whose motion killed the European Defense Community, ill-fated predecessor of WEU, mounted his last bitter attack on the United States.

"Are we going to let a country inexperienced in foreign policy show the way to France?" he demanded.

"Would not Germany, even under the sponsorship of the United States, still remain dangerous?"

He charged that "the United States so far has taken us only on dangerous adventures. It caused us trouble in Indochina and North Africa."

Now, he said, the U. S. is ready "to pay us the same tribute for allowing German rearmament as it would have given us in the old days for having killed it."

Then the noisy chamber hushed to hear Herriot.

The old man leaned forward on his bench and told Mendes-France before the silent deputies:

"At the present moment, you can negotiate with the East. You are free."

"Tomorrow, you will first have to get the agreement of Germany."

Dan Davis is Installed President Of Kiwanis Club

Dan Davis, manager of the Harrisburg office of the Southeastern Illinois Gas Co., last night was installed as president of the Kiwanis club at the weekly meeting held at the Masonic temple.

The installation of officers was in charge of Ray Owens of the Marion club and lieutenant governor of Division 16.

Other officers installed were Dr. James Gaskins, vice president; Vernard Clayton, treasurer; and Ralph Woolard, secretary. Both Clayton and Woolard were re-elected.

The new board of directors installed last night is composed of Loy Barger, Bill Brashears, Ray Durham, Ronnie Doerge, Dr. G. R. Johnson, Arthur M. Debes and Fred Armstrong.

Loy Barger presided at last night's meeting in the absence of John L. Schork, who is ill.

Guests were Jerry Johnson, son of Dr. Johnson; Tom Davenport, son of L. N. Davenport; and George Duncan, nephew of Mr. Davenport.

Gray Outlines His Program as Congressman

Addresses Woodrow Wilson Memorial Banquet at Anna

Congressman-elect Kenneth Gray of West Frankfort, speaking before a large group in Anna Tuesday evening, outlined a ten-point program he intends to follow to help bolster the sagging economy in the district he represents in Congress.

Congressman Gray was one of the principal speakers at the 28th annual Woodrow Wilson Memorial banquet held in the community hall of the American Legion hall in Anna. The banquet was attended by approximately 300 persons representing all counties in the 25th congressional district.

The memorial banquet and program honoring the memory of former President Woodrow Wilson is the only program of its kind held in the United States, it is said. For the past 26 years a memorial program has been held in Anna on the birthdate of Woodrow Wilson, 28th president of the United States.

Receives Varied Requests

In discussing the economy of southern Illinois Gray declared "In all the history of southern Illinois there has never been a greater need than today for the Federal Government to lend a helping hand to our sagging economy."

Bobby Dunn Slowly Improves After Suffering Loss of Legs

Bobby Dunn, 13 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Dunn who fell under a train in Pontiac, Mich., Christmas day about 1 p. m. and suffered the amputation of both legs, is slowly improving in the Pontiac General hospital.

The Duns are well known in Harrisburg, the family having moved away about two years ago. Police investigations thus far have shown that the lad was not "hopping" a freight train as previously stated, but believe he might have been pushed by some older boys.

His aunt, Mrs. Val Ledford, has asked that his friends who have comic books that they would like to donate for him to read while in the hospital, call Co. 16F3.

He said he has attended over 100 meetings with various organizations and groups since his election listening to their various problems preparatory to taking office on Jan. 5.

Gray listed the following as part of his planned program to help the area:

1. Completion of Devil's Kitchen dam.

2. The development of a number of other lakes in the region, including the Saline River and Big Muddy projects.

3. The development of oil and chemicals from coal in order to open up new markets for coal and to make that industry more prosperous so that it will give more employment.

4. The granting of a larger share

Asiatic Nations Invite Japan, Red China to African-Asian Parley

BOGOR, Indonesia (AP)—The leaders of five Asiatic nations announced today they will invite 25 other nations, including Red China and Japan, to attend an African-Asian conference next April.

Nationalist China and Israel were the only two nations of the African-Asian area omitted from the invitation list.

An official communique issued by the premiers of the Colombo nations said they invited "all countries with independent governments" to meet in Indonesia next April.

The communique was issued at the wind-up of a two-day conference on Asiatic problems held here by Premiers Ali Sastroamidjojo of Indonesia, Jawaharlal Nehru of India, Mohammed Ali of Pakistan, Sir John Kotelawala of Ceylon and U. Nu of Burma.

The following countries were listed as those which will be invited to the forthcoming 30-nation conference:

Afghanistan, Cambodia, the Central African Federation, Communist China, Egypt, Ethiopia, Gold Coast, Iran, Iraq, Japan, Jordan, Laos, Lebanon, Liberia, Libya, Nepal, the Philippines, Saudi Arabia, Sudan, Syria, Thailand, Turkey, North Viet Nam, South Viet Nam and Yemen.

Word that Red China and Japan had been included in the list of countries to be invited had leaked out much earlier.

Thus the only real surprises in the list were Turkey, the Indo-China states and the Central African Federation, which consists of Nyasaland, Liberia, Libya, Nepal, the Philippines, Saudi Arabia, Sudan, Syria, Thailand, Turkey, North Viet Nam, South Viet Nam and Yemen.

State Employee Charged with Forgery Here

Raymond St. Clair, Unemployment Office Worker, Held in Jail

An employee of the State of Illinois, Division of Unemployment Compensation, who had been in Harrisburg only a short time has admitted in a sworn statement that he falsified claims here, totalling approximately $866, State's Attorney Glen O. Jones said today.

He is Raymond Clifton St. Clair, 39, born in Indiana and transferred to the Harrisburg office Aug. 13. A complaint signed by Charles S. Green of Mt. Vernon, Unemployment Compensation office supervisor, which charged St. Clair with forgery, was filed before Justice of the Peace Vern Joyner late yesterday.

St. Clair's arrest came as a result of an investigation by the Division of Unemployment Compensation and when questioned yesterday afternoon in Jones' office, he admitted his activities freely in a sworn statement.

Jones said St. Clair's statement admitted he falsified claims for unemployment compensation and receiving checks for the payment of the claims. The statement also said he made some false claims at Mattoon, where he was employed by the division before being transferred here.

His statement said he came here because he requested a transfer so that he would be closer to Kentucky, where he visited.

Here, he said, he got names out of the "dead" file—which contained names of cases not currently active—and used them to get approximately $866 for himself. He listed the names he had used.

He said that at Mattoon he falsified six or seven claims, using the name of one man, and that he also used another name there to obtain money.

St. Clair was placed in the Saline county jail after he was questioned.

State Orders Cut in Auto Insurance Rates

SPRINGFIELD (CP)—The state today announced an order for a 3 1/2 million dollar drop in 1955 Illinois automobile insurance rates.

Justin T. McCarthy, director of the Illinois Department of Insurance, in a report to Gov. William G. Stratton said he ordered the reduction in rates.

McCarthy said the savings to holders of auto insurance policies will amount to $3,529,924 annually.

The National Automobile Underwriters Assn. has approved the drop in rates, McCarthy said.

McCarthy said the reduced rates will mean an average savings of 5.2 per cent to auto insurance policy holders in the NAUA group. The new rates become effective Jan. 10.

McCarthy said companies outside the NAUA usually follow the changes of rates by companies in the association. If these companies also adopt the lower rates then annual savings will amount to $5,775,000, he said.

The new rates will mean an added 20 per cent reduction on auto collision rates for farmers, McCarthy said. He said there will be an average reduction of 10 per cent on $100 deductible collision insurance ranging from 5 per cent savings in Chicago, East St. Louis and Joliet to 20 per cent savings in Springfield and Peoria.

The average reduction on $50 deductible collision insurance will be 2.7 per cent, ranging from no change in Chicago, East St. Louis and Joliet to 10 per cent savings in Rockford, Springfield and Peoria.

There will be an average 4.5 per cent drop in comprehensive insurance rates on private passenger cars.

Other reductions were made on commercial vehicles operating within a 50-mile radius, fleets, public automobiles and buses, dealers and other miscellaneous types of coverage.

Dulles Named 'Man Of Year' by Time

NEW YORK (AP)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, who has traveled 101,521 miles on diplomatic missions in 1954, has been named "Man of the Year" by the editors of Time Magazine.

The fire was discovered shortly after 11 p. m. and with the blaze fanned by strong winds the house was completely burned, however, it is reported that a few of the household items were carried to safety.

It is not known what caused the fire.

State to Fight Injunction Suit Against Toll Roads

CHICAGO (AP)—The Illinois Toll Highway Commission has decided to fight an injunction suit against its 390 million dollar road program in federal court here instead of appealing directly to the U. S. Supreme Court.

Atty. Gen. Latham Castle announced Tuesday that the state had decided to fight the case before the three-judge federal court which Monday denied the state's motion to dismiss the injunction suit.

The injunction suit was filed earlier this month by a group of property owners in the western suburbs of Chicago.

The chief executive also on Jan. 13 will send a special message to the House and Senate asking for increased pay for the armed services, plus a number of collateral benefits.

The Jan. 11 message will deal primarily with a proposed pay increase for federal employees and upping the price of a three cent stamp to four cents. Air mail, under the Eisenhower program, will jump to seven cents an ounce.

The postal rate increases were recommended earlier this year by the President, but turned down by Congress. The President also vetoed a congressional proposal to raise postal salaries because there were not compensatory postal rate hikes.

Press Secretary James C. Hagerty, as the White House waited somewhat tensely for news of the European defense vote today by the French Chamber of Deputies, disclosed that Mr. Eisenhower on Jan. 11 will recommend a new pay structure for federal employees that will cost the government about 202 million dollars.

The Jan. 13 military pay raise bill also will include the administration's new armed forces reserve program plus a request for a number of other benefits for servicemen and their families.

The White House would not estimate the precise size of the military increase, but Hagerty said the Civil Service recommendation would, if adopted, amount to a pay hike of about 5 per cent for federal workers, ranging from $125 on the lower Civil Service grades to a maximum of $800 a year for the top brackets.

Heart Attack Fatal To J. A. Douglas

J. A. Douglas, 79, died suddenly of a heart attack today at 9 a. m. at his home on Harrisburg RFD 2.

He is survived by his wife, Hettie, and the following children: Charles Douglas and Mrs. Ida Mae Holland, Pontiac, Mich.; Mrs. Minnie Lyon, Detroit, Mich.; Mrs. Beulah Barnes, J. D. Douglas, Mrs. Nina Azar, Art Douglas, and Bill Douglas, all of Harrisburg.

The body will be returned by the Gaskins funeral home to the family residence late this afternoon. Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

McClusky Rites Thursday 2 p. m.

Funeral services for Thomas (Bud) McClusky, Harrisburg resident who died Christmas day in Pontiac, Mich., will be held Thursday at 2 p. m. at the Dorrisville Baptist church.

Rev. D. S. Smith will officiate, and burial will be in Sunset Hill cemetery.

He leaves his wife, Mae; three children, John, of Bowling Green, Ky., Tom, of Pontiac, Mich.; and Mrs. Lenora Beaver of Pontiac; four brothers, Ezra, Otto, Horace and Herald, and one sister, Mrs. Nell Hancock, all of Saline county; seven grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

The body lies in state at the Turner funeral home.

James E. Wathen, 77, Dies at Ridgway

James Edward Wathen, 77, retired Gallatin county farmer, died at his home in Ridgway Tuesday evening.

He leaves his wife, Teresa, and one son, John B. Wathen who is a teacher in the public schools in Murphysboro.

SIU Closes Books on Record Year; Service Demands Create Problems

CARBONDALE, Ill. — Southern Illinois university, closing out its books on a record year, looked forward to 1955 somewhat apprehensively today.

"You cannot increase enrollment by more than 52 per cent without having drastic financial effects," said SIU President D. W. Morris in explaining that appropriated funds for the 1955-56 biennium were insufficient to meet Southern's needs.

Because of greater demands on the university for service and training, particularly in the past year, the board of trustees has voted to ask the state legislature for operating expenses of $16,500,000 for 1955-56.

Though beset with money problems and inadequate space, the university made some notable progress during 1954. As a result, there were 1,990 more students on campus this year than last, an enrollment increase of 30 percent over last year and 52 percent over 1952.

Registration of 4,619 residents this fall broke all previous attendance at Southern.

Broaden Program

The major factor in swelling the enrollment lists has been a broadened educational program tailored to the needs of southern Illinois. Students who formerly had to travel long distances to acquire training in vocations and professions are flocking to SIU, which was only a teacher's college until a decade ago.

During 1954, a Life Science building was completed on the campus and a sorely-needed new library took shape, with occupancy scheduled for next fall. Heavy enrollment has overcrowded existing buildings, however, and 60 old residences and temporary buildings are now in use.

The 1955 legislature will be asked to grant $35,704,300 for building and capital improvements, including an agriculture building. Agriculture students now have classes in makeshift quarters, including a quonset hut and a converted calf barn.

VTI Facilities Overtaxed

With classroom, shop and instructional staff for only 200 students, the Vocational-Technical Institute of the SIU Division of Technical and Adult Education was hard-pressed when nearly 400 sought admittance this fall. Some students had to be turned away. In the winter term when the demand for admission was even greater, the VTI overtaxed facilities to take in 398 students — a tripled enrollment since the VTI day school program was started three years ago.

A cooperative agronomy research station, jointly operated by SIU and the University of Illinois, was activated in October at SIU's experimental farm to conduct basic and applied research in crops and soils, particularly those in southern Illinois. A pilot plant was under construction of forest products as part of a cooperative enterprise between SIU and the Carbonado branch of the U. S. Forest Research center. In addition, the Research center this year received an extra $150,000 appropriation from the federal government for expansion of its research program and staff.

Meanwhile, members of the agriculture department staff were engaged in more than 25 research projects and the University was supporting 33 research endeavors by faculty members in other fields. Most of these were aimed at upgrading social, cultural and economic conditions in Southern Illinois. The microbiology research laboratory, engaged in radiation and nutrition studies for the American Cancer Society, the Atomic Energy Commission and other agencies, entered into a five-year research pact with the U. S. Public Health Service. Research in electrical capacitors for Sangamo Electric Co. was renewed for the fifth year, and the Army's Office of Ordnance Research continued its contract for cosmic ray studies at Southern.

A half dozen cooperative programs of fisheries and wildlife research received new impetus when the Trux-Truax Coal Co. put a 1400-acre tract of strip mine property at the University's disposal. In the campus residence halls, a program was started in 1954 to integrate instruction with student activities and social life. The objective was to make the dormitories small communities in themselves where students attend some of their classes and where closer kinship between faculty and students is developed by resident counselors.

Among the new curricula added were those in personnel management and an intern program student accountants.

Help Area Towns

At the SIU campus at Little Grassy Lake, area school children were treated to an aggregate of nearly 12,000 days of camping this year. The department of community development, organized at Southern in 1953, wound up the study phase of "Operation Bootstrap" in Eldorado last spring and offered its help to three other towns—Du Quoin, Elizabethtown and Rosiclare.

NEGLEY, Tex. — Mrs. Juanita Westbrook believes she has the loneliest job in the world. She's a forest fire spotter — guardian of 58,000 acres in north-eastern Texas.

Few persons will brave the 126 steps to her lookout tower. The climb makes them dizzy. Most of those who start up give up about halfway to the top.

Mrs. Westbrook traverses the steps at least three times a day. Her house is just a few hundred yards away. Since February, 1953, when she took over the tower, she has been off duty only two months.

She has spent so much time looking at fires that she can tell the difference at a glance between a "legal" and an "illegal" fire. A "legal" fire is one set by a rancher to burn brush.

An "illegal" fire, she explained, is one set deliberately or accidentally. This type is the destructive one, and is the kind Mrs. Westbrook must spot early.

Her advice to industry on financing and expansion.

The Little Theater traveling troupe, going on the road for the second year, presented a children's play and an adult comedy in 29 southern Illinois communities last spring.

At year end, statistics showed that Southern was the fourth largest institution of higher learning in the state. SIU officials, hoping that the new legislature would be sympathetic to the school's growth, foresaw an enrollment of 5500 resident students in 1955 and 6500 by 1956 if funds are available for staff, housing and classrooms.

If not, said SIU President Morris, a cutback will be necessary, resulting possibly in a shortened school year, or even dropping the summer session.

HYANNIS, Mass. — Eighty grade school children in this town thought more of the teaching shortage problem than they did of summer vacations. They volunteered to attend summer school to give practical training to 15 prospective teachers.

Next morning Greg found it hard to tear himself away from the activities of the town, so genuine that it was incredible to realize he had been responsible for them himself, and go to Daggett. The old man was already awake, in an exuberant mood, and determined to miss nothing that was going on. For the first time in weeks—for the last time, perhaps—Greg dressed himself, and after he had eaten his breakfast, helped him to walk a little.

He clung to Greg's arm, his eyes roving alertly. "This is what it was like," he said in a tone of satisfaction.

"I figure," Greg told him, "that the best vantage point will be that big window in the hotel lobby. That will give you a box seat for everything that goes on because the telecasting of the speech and the parade will be done there."

He tightened his hold on the old man's arm as the boardwalkers began to fill up with men in riding boots, their spurs jingling. Daggett tired soon and made no objection when Greg steered him into the hotel and settled him in a comfortable armchair.

Rupert came up in costume, looking dashing but nervous. Like Greg, he was aware that, with the arrival of Horace Crain, he must change his allegiance, that the break with Wade Daggett lay at hand.

"I have been wondering, sir, how one says thank you for a new life."

"By using it," Daggett told him. "Really using it. I don't mind mistakes but I do hate waste!"

Kirby joined them, dapper, alert, in high spirits, and the lobby of the hotel began to fill up with technicians, while photographers set up their cameras.

Long before the stage coach, the covered wagon, and the chartered buses had arrived from the station, a steady line of traffic came across the Badlands, raising a cloud of yellow dust: new cars, old cars and a surrey, a few Indians on ponies. The Chamber of Commerce cowboys swaggered down the road and a man came from the stable bringing a horse bearing a side saddle.

Daggett leaned forward, gripping Greg's arm. "There they come," he said in excitement. "On your way, young man!"

Dust swirled in the distance, a horseshoe struck a pebble with a ringing sound, there was a chorus of "Yippee" and a rattle of shots, and around the bluff came the stagecoach at full gallop, the covered wagon swaying behind, accompanied by cowboys riding, shouting and shooting. Flashlight bulbs went off, the horses reared back as the stagecoach came to a dramatic halt. Greg ran forward to open the door.

SIR WINSTON'S WINDOW—Designer Rupert Moore views the window featuring Prime Minister Sir Winston Churchill's coat of arms. It will be erected in the gallery at Chequers, country home of Britain's prime ministers, near London, where coats of arms of previous prime ministers are displayed. The Garter window was started shortly after Churchill was knighted.

RIVALS FOR CHICAGO MAYOR—Three of the four main figures who have thrown their hats into the ring for election of mayor of Chicago are, from the left: Ald. Robert Merriam; Martin Kennelly, present mayor, and county clerk Richard Daley. Merriam, who bolted the Democratic party earlier this year, has been nominated as the Republican candidate. Kennelly, seeking his third consecutive term, has been abandoned by the regular Democratic organization which backed him for the previous terms in favor of Daley, their new choice. The fourth candidate, Benjamin S. Adamowski, not shown, is also in the race. (NEA Telephoto)

Miss Barbara Wiley Weds
Sgt. Gary Bowles Dec. 17
In Presbyterian Chapel

Before an altar decorated with greenery, poinsettias and candelabra holding burning tapers Miss Barbara Jeanne Wiley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Wiley, 121 South Mill, and Sergeant Gary W. Bowles, reared by his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. James Denny, exchanged wedding vows before a small group of close relatives and friends.

Rev. Bertis L. Lancaster, schoolmate and life-long friend of the bride and bridegroom, performed the double ring ceremony Friday, Dec. 17, in the chapel of the First Presbyterian church.

The bride wore a street length dress of white Florentine faille, designed princess style with a full skirt, a high neckline with a rolled collar, and short dolman sleeves. She also wore a small white faille hat and carried a bouquet of gardenias surrounded with pink mums and satin streamers, mounted on a white Bible.

Mrs. Charles Swaney, friend of the bride, was matron of honor dressed in a pink Florentine faille dress, fashioned similar to that of the bride. She wore black accessories and a shoulder corsage of white chrysanthemums.

Pvt. Joseph A. Marth of Chicago, who is stationed with the bridegroom at Fort Riley, Kansas, served as best man. Sheldon Lancaster, Harrisburg, was usher.

Mrs. Perry R. Moore presided at the organ, playing a medley of wedding music by Bach.

Mrs. Wiley chose for her daughter's wedding a beige wool afternoon dress with brown accessories. She wore a corsage of yellow and bronze chrysanthemums.

A reception followed immediately after the wedding at the home of the bride's parents. The house was decorated in keeping with the yuletide season. Mrs. Ed Cole and Mrs. Geneva Mitchell were hostesses.

After the reception the couple took a short week end wedding trip to Evansville, Ind., and are now at the home of the bride's parents. The bridegroom will return to his station in Fort Riley, Kansas, on Jan. 5 and the bride will join him in the late spring.

Mrs. Bowles graduated from the Harrisburg Township high school with the class of 1952 and is now working as stenographer in the Illinois State Employment office. Mr. Bowles graduated from HTHS in 1951 after which he attended Mississippi Southern college before re-entering service in August of 1954.

Mrs. Raymond Hilliard Hostess
To E. T. C. Party

The E. T. C. club met at the home of Mrs. Raymond Hilliard in Eldorado for a Christmas party on Tuesday evening, Dec. 23.

The hostess served a delicious turkey dinner after which gifts were exchanged from beneath a beautifully decorated tree. At this time secret pals were revealed and new names were drawn for the coming year.

Attending were Mrs. R. W. Morgan, Mrs. Sid Hamilton, Mrs. L. L. Moore, Mrs. Andy Crowe, Mrs. Robert Penrod, all of Harrisburg, Mrs. James Butler, Eldorado, and Mrs. Opal Browning and children of Marion, Ky.

The January meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Sid Hamilton in Harrisburg.

Announce Marriage of Mrs.
Maurell Rude
To Washington Resident

Announcement is being made of the marriage of Mrs. Maurell Rude, daughter of Mrs. Maud Hamilton, to Charles Cory of Long View, Wash.

The wedding took place Dec. 20 in the Faith church in Long View where they are making their home.

Mrs. Eunice Reynolds had as guests Christmas her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Beardsley and children, Patsy Ann and James Michael, Detroit, who arrived Wednesday and left Saturday. Also guests in the Reynolds home were Mr. Beardsley's stepfather and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Dillard Brewer, St. Louis. The visitors also visited Mrs. Waldo Reynolds and son, Dale, sister of Mrs. Beardsley.

Don't soak raw chicken in water; soaking causes loss of flavor.

Dr. and Mrs. Tom Applegate and baby daughter have returned to their home at Great Lakes after spending Christmas with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Applegate, and brother, Richard. Dr. Applegate is serving in the U. S. Dental Corp at Great Lakes.

Miss Marveen Thomas, formerly on The Daily Register staff, returned yesterday to Denver, Colo., where she is employed in the office of the telephone company, after a week end visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Thomas, Harrisburg RFD 3, and other relatives in Danville.

Mrs. H. B. Gary, 619 South Ledford, returned recently visited her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Gary and daughter Marilyn. While there she also visited the following in Detroit, Mich.: her daughter, Mrs. Irene Sonheaver and daughter, Delores; her granddaughter, Mrs. Harold Garrgh, and husband, and daughter, Rose Ann; her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Stewart; and grandson, B. D. Stewart, and wife, and children, Gary, Nancy and baby Gregg.

Dr. N. A. Herrmann, who suffered a heart attack yesterday and was placed in an oxygen tent at Lightner hospital, was taken to Barnes hospital in St. Louis this morning in an ambulance from the Gaskins funeral home. Mrs. Herrmann accompanied him in the ambulance.

Dr. and Mrs. H. J. Raley returned home yesterday from Charleston, S. C., where they spent Christmas with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Balleli and granddaughter, Sandra Gale.

Cities Raise, Spend And Borrow More

CHICAGO —(UP)—The nation's cities collected more taxes, spent more money and borrowed more in fiscal 1953, according to an analysis by Commerce Clearing House.

These records were set by 481 cities of more than 25,000 population.

Tax collections: $3,770,000,000. General expenditures, $5,650,000,000.

Borrowings, $1,200,000,000. Property taxes produced $2,760,000,000, about three-fourths of the total taxes collected. Sales, use and selective excise taxes raised $624,000,000; license taxes, $373,000,000.

Commerce Clearing House said general expenditures were up nine per cent over the previous year.

Comic "Czar" Tells Parents to Work Overtime

By GAY PAULEY
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK —(UP)—The nation's new comics "czar" offers this formula for cutting juvenile crime — let parents work overtime at parenthood.

Judge Charles F. Murphy, assigned to improve the comics' reputation, disagrees with those experts who say that crime and horror played up in some such publications have increased juvenile delinquency.

"Long before comic books, we had young criminals," said Murphy. "Many factors contribute to delinquency but in my opinion, the greatest single cause is an unhappy home life."

The cure, he said, is the happy home life.

Approval Seal

"A home where the child is brought up with proper religious training," he said. "One where the child is taught to respect his parents, to respect authority. Being a parent is a 24-hour day job. Some parents barely give it a 40-hour week."

Murphy, a former New York magistrate and long active in working with teenagers, was appointed by the newly created Comics Magazine Association, representing 21 publishers voluntarily policing their product.

"Beginning Jan. 1, every book will carry our seal of approval," said Murphy.

He already is weeding out things which he considers objectionable. Publishers submit books in the drawing stage, and those parts he disapproves or are returned for change.

"We have to be sweeping in this purification drive," said Murphy in an interview. "I intend to seek the continuing advice of church and welfare groups, parents, educators, psychiatrists."

Has Three Children

If Murphy gets around to screening all comics, he has a monumental task. He estimated that 60,000,000 are published monthly.

The "czar," a big jovial man in his 40's, should be an authority on children's reading material—comics or classics. He has three children—aged 20, 15 and 14.

"I've burned comic books in my time," said Murphy. "But my kids always found replacements the minute my back was turned."

Since taking office, he has received thousands of letters—most of them praising the industry for its move.

One of his favorite letters came from the children of Grade Six, Helen Street School, Hamden, Conn.

"Dear Mr. Murphy," they wrote. "We pledge to buy only those comic books bearing your seal of approval. Further we will trade comics with our friends only if they trade approved magazines."

A woman in Indiana was more caustic than approving.

"What is the use," she wrote, "of taking nude women out of the comic books when they walk the streets just as naked?"

Wage Boost

LISBON —(UP)—The government announced that all Portuguese civil servants' salaries had been increased by 10 per cent to keep up with the increased cost of living here. Members of the large civil service now generally make double what they earned 13 years ago.

Borrowing rose seven per cent and brought total municipal indebtedness to $11,300,000,000.

Red Nations Show Gain in Steel Output

NEW YORK —(UP)—Iron Age revealed today that Iron Curtain countries in 1954 registered "impressive" gains in steel production while the Free World's output declined.

The authoritative trade journal estimated the Soviet bloc shaved the Free World's historic production advantage from four-to-one to three-to-one in 1954.

"Spearheaded by Russia," Iron Age said steel production in the Communist world rose 7.7 per cent to 62,825,000 net tons in 1954 from 58,337,000 tons the year before.

Output throughout the Free World, reflecting sharp declines in the United States and Canada, fell 9.0 per cent to 182,365,000 tons from 200,389,000 in 1953 the record year.

Despite the fact U. S. production

Actress Rita Hayworth Signs Contract to Make Two Pictures

HOLLYWOOD —(UP)—Actress Rita Hayworth was back in business with Columbia Pictures today after signing a contract calling for two more pictures with the firm.

Exact details of the contract were not disclosed but studio officials said negotiations were completed Tuesday night in Reno, Nev., where the red-haired actress, her crooner-husband Dick Haymes and her two children have been living.

The new contract, believed worth more than one million dollars for two pictures starring Miss Hayworth, also dissolved the Beckworth Film Co., which formerly made Hayworth pictures for Columbia.

Morse Predicts Congress to Hike Minimum Wage

WASHINGTON (UP) - Senator Wayne Morse predicted today that Congress will increase the 75-cent hourly minimum wage.

The Oregon independent said he hopes the minimum will be increased to no less than one dollar an hour and that the minimum wage law will be broadened to cover workers in all segments of the economy.

Morse said an increase in the wage minimum would have a double-barreled effect.

1. It would "bring necessary cost of living relief to people with low, minimum wages."

2. It would provide a "spiraling effect" which would "ripple up" through the entire wage structure and increase the purchasing power of the nation's consumers.

Informed sources expect the Eisenhower administration to recommend some increase in the 75-cent minimum wage base, but not to the one-dollar an hour figure recommended by Morse.

They expect the wage recommendation will be accompanied by a proposal for broader coverage but not including all farm labor, workers in retail establishments, domestic servants and the like who are not now covered.

He described this as the "most pressing problem" in the field of unemployment insurance and said the Labor Department is at work trying to find a plan to cope with such "chronic unemployment."

Estimate 240
Traffic Deaths

CHICAGO (UP) - The National Safety Council estimated today that 240 persons will be killed in traffic accidents during the New Year's holiday this week end.

The council's estimate, based on past performance, covers the 54-hour period from 6 p. m. Friday to midnight Sunday.

It covers immediate traffic deaths only, and does not include injured who die after the holiday period.

Ned H. Dearborn, council president, urged motorists to drive safely and avoid a repetition of the Christmas holiday record in which 380 persons were killed.

10. Operate his office with honesty, hard work, dignity and modesty.

To Report to People
In conclusion Gray declared he plans to report to the people of his district by way of newspaper and radio, and will come home when Congress is not in session to personally report on his activities and progress.

Congressman Gray and family plan to depart Friday from West Frankfort for Washington where he will take the oath of office Jan. 5. They will make their home in Alexandria, Va.

Louie E. Lewis of Christopher, former treasurer of the State of Illinois, delivered the memorial address declaring that President Wilson was always searching after truth and conducted the high office of President of the United States on the basis of these truths as he knew them.

Lewis then urged all those in public office to follow the example set by former President Wilson and declared "truth is permanent, while injustice destroys itself."

Representative Clyde Shoup of Anna was master of ceremonies. Others appearing on the program included Rep. Paul Powell of Vienna, Russell Groves, president of McKendree college, and L. Oard Sitter, committeeman of the 25th congressional district.

Attending the meeting from Harrisburg were Attorney Don Scott and Bill Melton.

Urges Special Relief Program In Jobless Areas

DETROIT, Mich. (UP) - An undersecretary of labor called today for a special relief program for the chronically unemployed in hard-hit areas and industries where usual unemployment insurance benefits are exhausted.

Undersecretary Arthur Larson, in a speech prepared for the Industrial Relations Research Assn. here, said the new program might include retaining the unemployed for new jobs and paying their expenses to find work in other areas.

"We know that there is a hard core of unemployed, especially in certain areas, whose problem is no longer the usual one of temporary unemployment for which unemployment insurance as now constituted was designed," Larson said.

In the first nine months of this year, he said, nearly 1 1/2 million workers exhausted their unemployment insurance benefits before finding new jobs. There were 200,000 in Pennsylvania alone, he said, more than 100,000 in Michigan and New York and more than 75,000 in five other states.

He described this as the "most pressing problem" in the field of unemployment insurance and said the Labor Department is at work trying to find a plan to cope with such "chronic unemployment."

SPRINGFIELD (AP) — The city of West Frankfort today appealed its suit for injunction against oil well drilling in its reservoir area to the Illinois Supreme Court.

City Atty. F. P. Hanagan filed the appeal which says the city wants a reversal or a new lower court hearing of the denial of its suit against the Eastern Petroleum Co.

Henry Fullop and Paul Fullop were listed as the proprietors of the Eastern Petroleum Co.

The city had asked the Franklin County Circuit Court to grant an injunction against the petroleum company, preventing the firm from drilling oil and gas wells in the immediate drainage area of Lake West Frankfort, the city's water reservoir.

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. —AP— An Air Force C119 Flying Boxcar crashed into a hilly area near here today. The sheriff's office said at least seven of the 11 crewmen aboard were killed.

Deputy Sheriff C. D. Stovall said the state highway patrol reported that rescuers found bodies of seven persons. He said it was also reported that two other survivors were found injured.

The deputy said witnesses reported three parachutes were seen opening before the plane crashed.

The plane was enroute to Brookley Air Force Base, near Mobile, Ala., from Sewart Air Force Base, Tenn., near Nashville. Officials at Stewart said they had unconfirmed reports that three men parachuted from the plane.

BELLEVILLE, Ill. (AP)—The Air Force has identified two men killed in the crash of a B26 light bomber as 1st Lt. Charles Rice, 27, Greenville, N. C., and Airman 1st Class Windelkin Jr., 21, New Orleans, La. Their plane crashed and exploded shortly after taking off from Scott Air Force Base Tuesday. They were the only two occupants.

Elks Sponsor Junior Dance

Tomorrow night the Harrisburg Elks lodge revives an old custom by sponsoring another Junior Elks dance at the lodge. The dance will be open to anyone under 21, and admission is free, as are refreshments.

The only admittance regulation required by the Elks is that couples only will be allowed at the dance, where good live music will be provided by John Richard Small and his trio, with Keith Pierce at the Hammond organ and Arch Griffin on tenor sax and clarinet.

The committee in charge of the dance emphasized that anyone under 21 was eligible to attend, not just children of Elks, so that a large crowd is anticipated.

Arthur Godfrey Fires Producer

NEW YORK (AP)—Arthur Godfrey fired producer Larry Puck from his Wednesday night television show, reportedly because Puck had become engaged to Marion Marlowe, a singing star of the show.

Godfrey simply told a staff meeting Tuesday that he would produce the Wednesday night "Arthur Godfrey and His Friends" show himself. Puck apparently is still producing Godfrey's Monday night "Talent Scouts" show.

Puck, some 30 years older than the 25-year-old auburn-haired singer, was on vacation. His office confirmed the "firing" but said it knew nothing of his engagement.

Miss Marlowe was said to be returning from a Christmas holiday today. She was reported to be wearing a 6 1/2 carat diamond Christmas present from the producer.

Godfrey's abrupt announcement firing Puck recalled his firing, on the air more than a year ago, of singer Julius La Rosa. La Rosa also was dumped reportedly because of a romantic attachment to a co-worker in the Godfrey enterprises.

Godfrey said the firing resulted from La Rosa's hiring an outside agent. He accused La Rosa of lacking "humility."

Gen. Klein Named To Army Board

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—Brig. Gen. Julius Klein of the Illinois National Guard was named to the Illinois Army Board by Gov. William G. Stratton Tuesday.

Klein succeeds the late Maj. Gen. George F. Ferry, Chicago. Klein's term will expire Sept. 1, 1957. Klein, Chicago, is a veteran of World Wars I and II.

If you're ironing a large piece of fabric, turn your ironing board around so, that the iron rests at the narrow end. That way, you get the maximum working space. Don't balance the iron too far out, however, if your board is the tippy kind.

Scientists Hit Excessive Security Rules

Charge Actions by Congressmen Create Sickness of Suspicion

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP)—Some of the nation's most prominent scientists joined today in an angry attack on "excessive" security restrictions imposed by congressmen they said created a "sickness of suspicion" in the country.

Dr. Warren Weaver, president of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, led the barrage in a speech before the powerful organization's 121st annual meeting here.

He said the science profession "cannot afford to disregard" the "sickness of rumor and anxiety, of suspicion and distrust, and, at its worst, of fear and tragedy."

"In part this sickness is due to overemphasis on caution for the past rather than constructive courage with respect to the future," Weaver said.

"In part it is an anti-intellectualism, a strange and dangerous lack of faith in scholarly competence. In part it is the horrid result of political pressure, of personal selfishness and of the pathological arrogance of demagogues with small and nasty minds."

Introduces Condon

Weaver made his stinging attack Tuesday night in an address introducing Dr. Edward U. Condon, retiring president of the AAAS. Condon, a physicist whose security clearance recently was revoked by Navy Secretary Charles Thomas, made no reference to the controversy surrounding him in his talk, which was a technical dissertation on physics.

"The sooner I forget about politics the better," he told a press conference earlier. "I've been distracted from physics for too long."

But Condon's associates let out all the stops in their criticism of the present security program.

Dr. Joel H. Hildebrand, emeritus professor of chemistry at the University of California, said in a talk that the progress of science was being severely hampered by "government officials who go beyond the reasonable requirements of security in order to forestall possible criticism for laxity."

"Some officials evidently impose excessive restrictions because of the fear of attack by a congressman seeking to use the case to gain headlines," Hildebrand said.

France Grants Independence to Indochina States

PARIS (AP)—France granted full economic independence today to the three associated states of Indochina.

The move followed a fact-finding tour by Admiral Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the U. S. Joint Chiefs of Staff to determine how the three states could be strengthened against Communist infiltration from the north.

Representatives of France, Vietnam, Laos, and Cambodia signed a treaty which revoked a monetary, economic and customs union established in 1950.

The treaty gives each of the three countries the right to mint and issue its own currency, establish its own commercial treaties with other nations and handle its own banking and customs problems.

For the time being, the three states have agreed to continue using the currency now in circulation in Indochina and peg their money to the French franc.

Boy, 13, Killed When Shotgun Discharged Accidentally by Playmate

PEORIA, Ill. (AP)—Thirteen-year-old George F. Spencer was shot and killed Tuesday when a shotgun accidentally discharged in the hands of a playmate, James Kerr, 12.

Kerr told police he picked up an empty 410 gauge shotgun belonging to his mother as he, Spencer and William MacIntyre, 12, played in the kitchen of the Kerr home.

He said he found some shells for the gun on top of the ice box, inserted one, and then began to withdraw it.

The gun fired and Spencer was hit in the upper chest. He was pronounced dead at a hospital.

Kerr was released by police. They said the parents of both Kerr and Spencer worked and were away at the time of the accident.

DR. FRANK L. TURNER of Fort Worth, Tex., will be the speaker at the Equality Methodist church for the Evangelistic Mission January 2 through January 9. Services begin each evening at 7 o'clock. A cordial welcome is extended to all by Rev. E. W. Fox the pastor.

Looking AT Sports

By ED KIRKPATRICK

Both of Saline county's representatives are now out of the Egyptian Holiday tournament being staged at Harrisburg's Davenport gymnasium, much to the displeasure of local fans. Harrisburg fell by the wayside last night in a thriller that was in question even in the final seconds.

Only a few days ago the Bull Dogs had turned back Carbondale, but last evening they failed to come up with the needed punch. Carbondale was in better form than in the previous meeting, outscored Harrisburg from the field, made fewer mistakes in their floor game.

Percentage-wise the Bull Dogs were superior in shooting. They connected on 19 of 54 tries from the field while Carbondale made 21 of 67. Here's how the shooting went by quarters:

That night which rolls around at least once a year for most teams (and more often, for others) plagued Carrier Mills Monday in its bid for Egyptian tournament honors. No matter how hard the Wildcats tried, nothing seemed to go right. The ball slipped off their fingers, feet hopped the sphere, passes were intercepted by taller opponents and other passes went where a fellow player either had been or not. It was just one of those nights, and the Wildcats had it!

Most everyone expected a great offensive show from big Oliver Rollins. But the Redbirds have some tall men, too, and they smothered him in the keyhole, rushed him in the corners. Besides, Oliver was no different from the rest of his mates. They were all just off pitch. At that, Big Rube came up with 19 tallies for the fracas—only four of them fielders—and seemingly collected them without fanfare, few realizing he scored so many points.

Carrier Mills has now lost seven of ten games this season—their 28th point drubbing at the hands of West Frankfort being by far the worst. In fact, the Wildcats lost to Mt. Vernon by only eight, Pinckneyville by ten. In the ten games they have played, Rollins has dropped in 261 of their 566 points—or about 46% of the team's total. His worst night came against Johns City when he counted only 17. He got 19 in the season's opener against Norris City and only 16 against West Frankfort. His best performance came against Shawneetown when he popped in 35 tallies. He made 32 each against Harrisburg and Rosiclare, 31 against Cave-in-Rock.

Rollins is getting more and more help all the time from his teammates in the offensive department, and although the "Cats may not wind up world beaters this season, things do look promising for next year. But Coach C. E. Shelton hopes "the bad one" is out of their system for the year.

One of the top scorers in Illinois high school basketball circles is Warren Fiser of Mounds. In his last outing Fiser ripped the nets for 33 points to give him a total of 243 points in eight games for a 30-plus average. Son of Mounds coach Bob Fiser, the hot-shooting cager has paced his team to a record of seven victories in eight starts.

LURES TRULY—The biggest fish taken on rod and reel in Hawaii's history is this 1002-pound marlin helped by George Parker, Jr. Barbara Bement, rather alluring herself, holds the homemade lure made of bathroom chrome pipe, plastic chair-covering strips and a piece of cable.

Edwardsville Beats Murphysboro, 72-53; Semifinals Tonight

The Mt. Vernon Rams, defending state champions, meet dark horse West Frankfort, and the Edwardsville Tigers, holiday tourney winners the past two years, face Carbondale in the semifinals of the Egyptian Holiday meet at Davenport gym tonight starting at seven o'clock.

Edwardsville last night knocked off Murphysboro, 72 to 53, and Harrisburg bowed out in a close one, 56 to 54, to Carbondale.

The Bull Dogs of Harrisburg and Carbondale engaged in the only thriller so far of the tourney, but more fireworks are expected tonight, especially in the first tilt involving Mt. Vernon and West Frankfort.

Bull Dogs Lead at Half Frankfort gained the semifinals by defeating Carrier Mills and Mt. Vernon beat Zeigler to also enter tonight's play.

Harrisburg had beat Carbondale, 61 to 48, in a previous contest but last night they couldn't do it although the issue was in doubt until the final horn sounded.

The first quarter ended 13 to 13 but midway in the second period it appeared that the Terriers were going to win with ease as they pulled out to a ten-point lead, 25 to 15. However the Bull Dogs pulled themselves together and outscored the foe 16 to 4 to lead at halftime 31-29.

The Bull Dogs kept their lead during the third frame and led, 44 to 40, as the last frame commenced. They made the count 46-40, their largest margin of the game, at the outset of the fourth period and maintained the lead until 5 minutes and 15 seconds were left in the game, when Carbondale went ahead again, 50 to 48. The locals tied the count twice in the closing minutes but could not regain the lead.

Anglin Scores 21 Points
Dave Anglin, who started out slowly, finished up the high point man of the game with 21. Harrisburg had a better shooting percentage, 35.2 to Carbondale's 31.3, but Carbondale got more shots.

Edwardsville, a very fine outfit, always had a safe enough lead in its contest with Murphysboro. The Tigers led, 18 to 12, at the quarter and 33 to 23 at the half. The third period score was 53 to 35.

The Tigers had some sharp shooters in Jackson, Penelton, Patton and Vaughn. Vaughn is the leading scorer but after he got three fouls called against him early in the game he sat out a lot of the contest and finished up with 12. Penelton, a good floor man as well as a fine shot, has played the past two years on the Tiger team.

Last night's crowd was not as good as the crowd the previous night but unless road conditions are very bad, a large gathering will be on hand for tonight's semifinals.

Brown is Named Pro Football Coach of Year

NEW YORK —(P)— Paul Brown who admitted he was a little surprised by his 1954 Cleveland Browns, today was named the National Football League's Coach of the Year in the annual United Press poll.

Brown narrowly beat out Lisle Blackbourn of the Green Bay Packers in balloting by 29 sports writers who covered the games in the various league cities.

Brown, whose team beat the Detroit Lions Sunday for the league title, received 10 votes. Blackbourn who coached the Packers to a 4-8 record while dropping two four-point decisions to the powerful Lions in his first year as a professional coach, received nine.

Only two other coaches received votes. Jim Lee Howell, who moved up from end coach to head coach of the New York Giants this year and compiled a 7-5 record, received six. Buddy Parker, whose Lions won the Western Division title for the third straight year, had four.

1954 Was No Ho-Hum Year as Mankind In Quiet Sort of Way Went Off Rocker

By WILLIAM EWALD
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK (AP)—The sky didn't fall. The Communists didn't bury the hatchet with the capitalists. The Dodgers didn't win the Series. But don't let anyone tell you 1954 was a ho-hum year.

It was a fantastic year. Mankind, in a quiet sort of way, went off its rocker.

It was a year in which a farmer

To Ask Highway Speed Limit, More Patrolmen

SPRINGFIELD, Ill.—Illinois Safety Director Joseph D. Bibb today said he will ask the 1955 Legislature for a highway speed limit, 257 more state patrolmen and a full-time traffic safety council.

Bibb said bills now being prepared would limit autos to 65 miles per hour in daylight hours and 50 miles per hour at night. Trucks would be limited to 45 miles per hour daytime and 40 m.p.h. at night.

Present laws require only that autos maintain a speed that is not reckless, with no limit specified. Trucks presently are limited to 45 miles per hour at all times.

The Legislative Motor Vehicles Commission is expected to propose a 65 m.p.h. daytime and 55 m.p.h. nighttime speed law.

Bibb said he will ask the Legislature to add the 257 patrolmen to the present 500-man state force and raise the base pay for patrolmen from $322 a month to $350.

He said he will seek a $65,000 appropriation to make the Traffic Safety Council an official state agency under his department. The council is now supported by what ever it can "beg" from three state offices, he said.

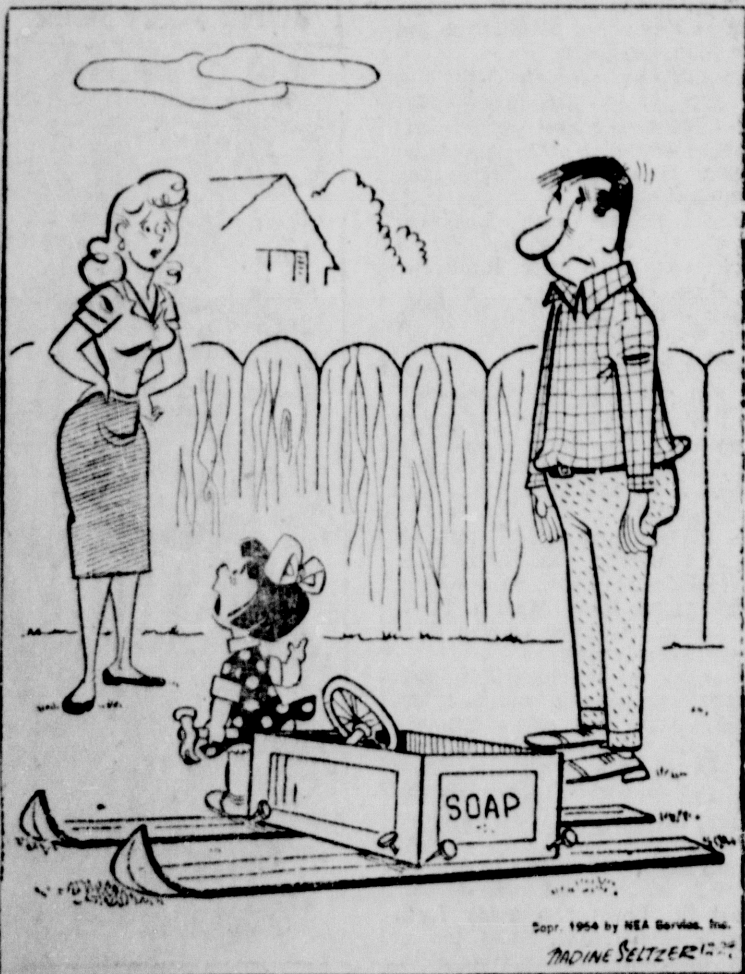

U. S. Army Has Its Own Bagpipe Expert

FT. KNOX, Ky. (AP)—It's a long way from the hills of Scotland to Kentucky, but it would do any Scot's heart good to hear the skirling of the pipes as a unit of the Third Armored Division marches to class.

Pvt. Lowell Thomson, the Army's only semi-official bagpiper, has the job of piping his fellow GIs to class, assisted by a drummer. Thomson, played with the Clan McNaughton band in his hometown of Rochester, N. Y. His buddies think his rendition of the division's marching song is real crazy.

The Boy Scout Troop No. 17 sponsored by the First Baptist church saw a special movie film on the latest type and method of artificial respiration in the offices of Dr.

Harold Brown in Carrier Mills last Tuesday night.

This film was obtained by Dr. Brown through the courtesy of the Air Base Commander at Scott Field, Ill. The film gave a detailed procedure of how to pull a person out of the water and the various things to do in case of different injuries.

Dr. Brown has in the past shown other films to the Scouts during course of First Aid that he has taught through the summer vacation to this particular group, the Cub Pack, the regular Scouts and Explorer Post.

This Is No Time to Take Chances

The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says:
Charles E. Wilson Resigns;
Deputy Secretary Of Defense
Robert Anderson Will Replace Him; John S. Cooper, The Hard-Luck Senator From Kentucky, May Run Again.

WASHINGTON. — It won't be announced for some time and may even be denied, but the resignation of Charles E. Wilson as secretary of defense is already at the White House and his successor has been picked.

The successor is quiet, headlin-ing Robert Anderson, the deputy secretary of defense.
No announcement will be made, however, until Wilson has a chance to appear before Congress and do battle for the new economized Defense Department budget. This is going to be a tough fight, and the secretary of defense has specified that he wants to lead it himself.

Wilson's political career, never a happy one, got off to a bad start when he told the Senate Armed Services committee that "what's good for General Motors is good for the United States." It reached a crescendo of public protest when he made his ill-timed dog remark in Detroit last fall. That remark was credited by many with causing the defeat of Republican Sen. Homer Ferguson of Michigan.

Wilson was also responsible for the policy of concentrating defense production with a few big companies, a policy in which he, as a General Motors production wizard, thoroughly believed, but which led to more contracts for GM, and eventually to the policy's reversal.

TEXAS RANCHER
Bob Anderson, who will become the new secretary of defense, is a lifelong Texas Democrat, who bolted the party to work for Eisenhower in 1952. Manager of the second biggest ranch in the United States, the Waggoner estate at Vernon, Texas, with an acreage of 500,000 in Texas and 300,000 in New Mexico, Anderson got to know Eisenhower through oil tycoon Seth Richardson.

The appointment of a relatively unknown cattle rancher as secretary of the Navy was considered a tribute to Eisenhower's friendship for Texans and the tremendous amount of Texas money poured into his campaign.

Immediately after taking over the Navy, however, Anderson showed that he intended to run it.
Unlike so many civilian secretaries, he did not allow the admirals to run him. He gave them a pointed rebuff when he promoted Capt.
George Hyman Rickover, the atomic specialist, to be an admiral after the admirals had twice turned him down. And he also reprimanded a group of top officers for a strip-tease party at Key West, Fla., after a junior officer had been made the scapegoat.

When Roger Kyes, another General Motors man, got tired of Washington and resigned as deputy secretary of defense, Anderson was transferred from the Navy department to take his place.

As secretary of defense, Anderson will not be in the headlines but he will run the Pentagon.

SMEAR BOOMERANGED
No man was more unfairly pil-loried during the recent congressional election than Sen. Joe O'Mahoney of Wyoming. But the other day in Miami he sat down to dinner with the man who helped pillory him.

O'Mahoney, who had served in the Senate for 18 years and who is a devout Catholic, was pictured as a "foreign agent" and as soft toward communism largely because as a lawyer he had defended Prof.
Owen Lattimore of Johns Hopkins University, indicted for perjury. O'Mahoney was cleared anyway.

Stopping at the Saxony hotel in Miami Beach during the Christmas holidays, Senator O'Mahoney bumped into Sen. Everett Dirksen, Republican of Illinois, who had gone into Wyoming to speak against him. In the Christmas spirit, the two senators and their wives sat down to dinner.

"Joe," said Dirksen, "what I said about you would have been a lot worse had I followed the speeches handed me by the Republican National committee. I censored them considerably."

O'Mahoney gave Dirksen a gentle sermon on the smear tactics used by the Republicans. He did not, however, tell Dirksen about some of the letters he wrote to supporters after the campaign.

To one such friend, David Scoll,
the New York attorney, O'Mahoney wrote: "The charges made against me by my opponents boomeranged to such an extent that I was not able to use the money you so kindly sent me. I am therefore returning your check for $100."

HARD-LUCK SENATOR
John Sherman Cooper, the Kentucky Republican who has twice attained the Senate of the United States for short terms and twice been defeated, is being urged by White House advisers to start maneuvering to run. And it looks as if he would succumb to the advisers.

Immediately after his defeat by Alben "The Veep" Barkley, Cooper was so discouraged that he wanted to get out of political life forever. He was planning to practice law and forget politics.

This was what he told the State Department when Secretary of State Dulles offered him the vitally important post of ambassador to India.

Since then, White House advisers have been telling Cooper that he made such an important showing in Kentucky he should keep in the limelight and run for the Senate against Democrat incumbent Earle Clements two years from now. To that end, they propose making him one of the U-S delegates to the United Nations, assisting Cabot Lodge.

Cooper served in a similar job under Truman, an administration which appointed many Republicans to bipartisan posts.

If Cooper does run against Senator Clements, it will result in an ironic political twist. For, during the recent Kentucky campaign, some of Senator Clements' friends urged him not to help Barkley but to let Cooper get elected. Cooper, they urged, would be a formidable candidate against him in 1956.

Senator Clements, though recognizing Cooper's strength, decided that loyalty was more important than expediency. He went all-out for Barkley.

Note — Though leaving the national headlines to Lyndon Johnson, Senator Clements, the Democratic whip of the Senate, is in large part responsible for the smooth-working Democratic organization there. Democratic members of the Steering committee wish sometimes that he would occasional call a meeting.

Commercial Airlines

To Carry Overseas

Military Air Mail

WASHINGTON. — The Defense Department announced today that overseas military air mail will be shifted immediately to scheduled commercial airlines over both the Atlantic and the Pacific.

A department spokesman estimated that the airlines will be paid $18,400,000 for carrying the mail to overseas military post offices during the fiscal year starting next July 1.

In anticipation of the move, the Civil Aeronautics Board in mid-December cut the mail rates scheduled to be paid Pan-American World Airways, Trans World Airlines and Northwest Airlines after Jan. 1.

Federation Opposes Any Large-Scale Building for Colleges, Universities

CHICAGO. — The Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois said today it opposes any large-scale building program for state colleges and universities.

The federation said that more buildings are not necessary because the private schools have unused space for the expanding number of college students.

"The taxpayers will get more for their money if it is used to educate young Americans rather than to build more buildings," the federation said.

Its proposals, made public in a report on "Higher Education in Illinois," included:

1. Cooperation between state and private schools.

2. Tighter college entrance requirements based on good high school work.

3. Higher tuition at state universities.

4. A state scholarship program for both public and private colleges.

5. Increasing use of junior colleges and specialist schools after high school.

The federation said the primary concern of the state would be "to strengthen the universities and colleges that it now has before building additional," and it proposed that a "good faculty" take precedence over expenditures for construction.

The federation opposed building a four-year branch of the University of Illinois at Chicago. The nine-million-dollar annual operating cost for such a school, it said, would provide 25,000 scholarships at $300 a year.

Sees Room in Private Schools

On the basis of its own survey of population trends, the federation found private colleges could accommodate the expected boom in college students from now until 1970.

The private schools report they are now operating at only 60 per cent of capacity, the federation said.

"It appears reasonable to conclude that increased actual enrollments in terms of students figured on a full-time basis could be taken care of (in private institutions in Illinois) beyond 1960 up to and perhaps including 1970," the federation said.

The University of Illinois has estimated that the number of all types of college students will rise from the present 114,000 to 223,100.
The federation survey by a University of Chicago expert produced figures that a present range of 108-000 to 117,000 college students would soar to a range of 176,000 to 227,000 by 1970.

A survey also was made of unused capacity existing or definitely planned in the private institutions.

Merchandise Payoff

Backfires on Sponsor

BUFFALO, N. Y. — A business promotion gimmick by a local department store at American Hockey League games in Buffalo backfired—in an odd way.

The store offered a $5 merchandise ticket this season to each person returning to the announcer's table any puck accidentally shot into the audience.

Three pucks had gone into the crowd during a recent contest when the announcer put on his spiel about the merchandise tickets.

A few minutes later no less than nine youngsters were lined up eagerly at the table, each holding a puck for the $5 payoff.

36 Communities Fluoridate Water Supplies in Illinois

SPRINGFIELD. — Fourteen
Illinois communities began fluoridation of their water supplies during 1954, bringing the total to 36, the Public Health Department reported today.

Some 300,000 persons in the 36 communities and two state schools are drinking fluoridated water as a means of preventing tooth decay, the department said.

Officials Find Economy Moving Upward in 1955

By RICHARD E. MOONEY
United Press Financial Writer
WASHINGTON (U.P.) — Four members of the Eisenhower Cabinet agreed today in their outlook for the new year 1955—a good year, they said.

Secretary of the Treasury George M. Humphrey repeated his earlier declarations that the U. S. economy is in good shape, and said the whole free world "has continued to advance toward our common objectives of a healthier and wider flow of trade and money."

Secretary of Labor James J. Mitchell said the new year finds "the economy moving briskly upward, and the job situation improving notably."

For the farmer, Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson said 1955 will be "one of continuing high levels of peacetime stability and prosperity."

Secretary of the Interior Douglas McKay viewed the coming 12 months as "a year of the most substantial progress in carrying out the Interior Department's primary responsibilities for development of the nation's mineral, water and energy resources."

Humphrey said the greatest contribution this country can make to better world trade is "a healthy and growing economy at a high level of activity here in the United States," and he predicted this domestic situation could develop.

Mitchell said the post-Korea readjustment "has been hurried successfully, and in a remarkably short time." He said the Labor Department is receiving reports of "reheating and increased demand in such consumer industries as automobiles, textiles, television and home laundry equipment."

"The most encouraging development," Mitchell said, "is that the American consumer has kept right on making steady gains in his standard of living." He said take-home pay has continued to be "extremely high as a result of wage increases and the tax cut of January, 1954."

Benson said the demand for farm products will be "at least as good" as 1954, and net farm income "should approach the 1954 level of $12,500,000,000."

He said farmers' gross income may decline slightly in the new year, because of acreage restrictions on wheat and cotton, but production costs will probably be lower.

"We have been in a period of farm adjustment in the new agricultural program initiated by the administration," Benson said, "and we have made a good start toward developing effective methods of dealing with our most pressing problems of surpluses and unbalanced production."

He expressed confidence that "we are on the threshold of a profitable period for farmers who seize the opportunities of a promising today and tomorrow."

Dividends Cross 10-Billion Mark

NEW YORK (U.P.)—A record-breaking total of $10,100,000,000 in cash dividends was disbursed by American corporations in 1954, establishing a new all-time peak.

This total compared with $9,550,000,000, the previous record, in 1953, and with $5,823,000,000 in historic 1929.

Of the 1,530 issues listed on the New York Stock Exchange, dividends were paid on a total of 1,384, involving 941 common and 443 preferred stocks. These aggregated $6,693,726,700, a record. In 1953 dividends of $6,257,501,000 were paid on 964 common and 443 preferred stocks listed.

Aircraft, utility, chemical, electrical equipment, machinery and metals, paper, petroleum and natural gas, railroad, rubber, and steel companies increased payments. Stock dividends ranging from 1-2 per cent to 100 per cent and extra or special dividends were again distributed in volume.

Decreases in dividends were made by some automobile, farm equipment, and textile companies. General Motors Corp. led all companies in cash payments for the year.

The following table shows 12 companies with the largest cash disbursements made in 1954:

General Motors Corp.	$437,330,000
American Tel. & Tel.	426,375,000
Standard Oil Co. (N.J.)	275,598,000
